RATES OF ADVERTISING.

Newspaper proprietors generally, and especially of this dty, under the usages and regulations heretofore prevaling are called upon to perform more labor without reminera-tion, than any other class of community. The gratuitous tion, than any other class of community. The gratuitous publication of charity and religious advertisement, and communications, fributes of respect, obituaries, &c. &c., which can only be inserted at a heavy cost to the proprietor, imposes upon them a burden so oncrous, that they feel called poses upon them a burden so onorous, that they feel colled upon, in self-defence, to check the abuse, by making such publications a charge, to some extent at least, upon the par-ties more numediately interested. In this they are but fol-lowing the example of the press in other cities, impelled by a sense of its intrinsic propriety, and imperative duty to themselves. The subscribers have, therefore, united togeththemselves. The subscribers have, therefore, united together in a mutual agreement, upon the following specified terms or the publication of these as well as every sort of regular business severtising.
